The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding independent claims 1, 15, and 28, Sherry (U.S. Pat. No. 6,221,071 B1) in view of Zepeda (WO/25260) and the prior art do not disclose or suggest a medical probe with an electrode array, the electrode array configured to assume an outwardly curved shape in response to being exposed to a first temperature, and narrow to a single pointed tip in response to being exposed to a second temperature less than the first temperature. Sherry in view of Zepeda suggests expanding an electrode array by using a temperature-sensitive material. Sherry in view of Zepeda, however, does not disclose or suggest an electrode array that narrows to a single pointed tip as claimed.
